Property and Location: This new residential development which is located in one of the most well-known golf resorts on the Costa Blanca has just been released for sale. Needless to say the properties are situated in a quiet and picturesque area with amenities close at hand. The same goes for the coast with towns such as Guardamar del Segura and Torrevieja close at hand and due to good motorway connections the same can be said of the airport.

Distribution: There are both top and ground floor models available, the top floor comes with a solarium and the ground floor with a garden. The following distribution and the price quoted is for one of the top floor models: From the landing the front door opens into the main living area. Directly ahead is the kitchen at the back of which is a gallery. To the left is the main living and dining area with access to a terrace. Moving through the living area a hallway gives access to the two bedrooms one of which is ensuite and also a further bathroom which serves the second bedroom and as a courtesy bathroom. The solarium is accessed by an external stairs leading from the terrace.

Summary: Due to their location these properties are obviously suited to golfing enthusiasts but they are also a great option for those looking for a base for their Costa Blanca holidays and will be a good choice if you are thinking of investing in a property which could easily be rented out.
