Along the entire coast of Alicante is a string of amusements and sights. Stroll in the old part of the town of El Barrio, and enjoy, for example, fresh fish and an ice-cold drink at one of all the cozy restaurants. In Alicante, festivals are held all year round and one of the best is said to be Hogueras de San Juan. The party is a tribute to the summer and starts on June 20 every year and lasts until June 29. The theme for this folk festival is fire which is expressed in various forms during the festival. Also, do not miss a visit to Santa Barbara Castle, which sits on a hill 167 meters above sea level. The surrounding area is flat but from the castle on the hill you have a fantastic view of the blue Mediterranean.
